Say "Yes" to Jesus the Lord or "No"?

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

I would like to encourage and call each one of us to volunteer to take care of others in needs at our Parish, at nursing homes, private homes, at hospital, and at Okanagan Correctional Centre. This is the important invitation of Jesus as He entrusted Peter and his disciples to do, saying, "Feed my lambs; Tend my sheep; and Feed my sheep." John 21:15-25

To respond to the requirements of ministerial and pastoral services at our parish's territory, we have served at Okanagan Correctional Centre since 2017. This is essential ministry which Jesus has called us to fulfil our duties by taking care of inmates-our brothers and sisters who need spiritual help from us.

As we know that we have served Mass at O.C.C, on the first and the third Thursday of month; but now, the pastoral requirements once again have inspired us to go further to serve others in need. Many of us, as volunteers, have experienced that how the inmates are so happy when they see our presence at O.C. C. They had big smiles when they met our volunteers' by talking to and by listening to them.

So, we now offer Mass at O.C.C, every Thursday of month, at 1:30 P.M. Everyone is invited to share this important ministry to look after others in needs, namely, the inmates as Jesus calls us to do. For those who cannot come to serve at O.C.C, please support and pray for us. Furthermore, if someone is available, please offer the inmates cookies or coffee weekly (Please drop at Parish Office or given to Lorette) and we have a reception after each Mass. I very appreciate your support. That is so great! Thanks in advance! So, let us encourage each other to do a little thing with great hearts.

In doing so, God is so happy with us and each one of us can fulfill our duties to spread the Good News to people, helping them to reduce their sufferings, sadness, unhappiness, depress and son on, helping them to have true peace, joy, and happiness in life by receiving God's grace and blessings, especially, God's salvation. Once again, thank you very much your cooperations, support and prayers. May God bless you always. In Christ, Fr. Dominique

BIG THANKS

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

On behalf of our Parish, I would like to say thank Portuguese Community, especially, Linda Fortuno who organized the our Lady of Fatima’s Festival’s Mass, Procession and a reception. You all did great job to express your strong faith by bringing people to our Lady to love and honor the Blessed Virgin Mary, and especially, come to our Lady to pray and ask her to intercede for us.

Let us continually invite our Lady of Fatima to stay in our own family and in our lives. Having her in our lives, we live in peace, joy, and happiness. Let us imitate our Lady of Fatima to carry Jesus in our lives. Jesus is the King of Peace. He always bless and give us better life, particularly, He will offer to us God’s salvation. Amen. Fr. COMPENDIUM OF THE CATECHISM
OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

#258. Why does the Church baptize infants?

The Church baptizes infants because they are born with original sin. They need to be freed from the power of the Evil One and brought into that realm of freedom which belongs to the children of God.

#259. What is required of one who is to be baptized?

Everyone who is to be baptized is required to make a profession of faith. This is done personally in the case of an adult or by the parents and by the Church in the case of infants. Also the godfather or the godmother and the whole ecclesial community share the responsibility for baptismal preparation (catechumenate) as well as for the development and safeguarding of the faith and grace given at baptism.

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

Let us bring our children to the Church to be baptized, to be born again in God’s Church family and help them living their faith in the midst of the modern world, and eventually, help them receiving God’s salvation. (Continue next week....)

Pope Francis' News

Vatican City, May 17, 2019 / 12:00 pm (CNA).- Pope Francis Friday encouraged medical professionals to defend and promote life, highlighting the practice of conscientious objection in today's healthcare environment.

"Defend and promote life, starting from those who are most defenseless or in need of assistance because they are sick, or elderly, or marginalized," Pope Francis said May 17. The pope met with the Italian Catholic Association of Healthcare Workers in Vatican's apostolic palace and encouraged their commitment to pro-life healthcare. The pope stressed that just because a medical technique is technologically possible does not mean it is necessarily ethical. "Any medical practice or intervention on the human being must first be evaluated carefully to see if it actually respects life and human dignity," he said.

"The practice of conscientious objection ... can be a sign for the healthcare environment in which we find ourselves, as well as for the patients and their families," he explained.

Francis said that in extreme cases where human life is endangered, conscientious objection based on one's ethical convictions should be sought with respect and humility in order to prevent misunderstandings.

"Always seek dialogue, especially with those who have different positions, listening to their point of view and trying to transmit yours," he advised.

Pope Francis critiqued the "corporatization" of healthcare systems today, commenting that healthcare workers must treat patients as people, not numbers. "Its corporatization ... has fundamentally changed the approach to illness and to the patient himself with its preference for efficiency often preceding attention to the person, who needs to be understood, listened to and accompanied, as much as he needs a correct diagnosis and effective treatment," Francis said.

He said that this corporatization also has an effect on medical workers leading to "burnout," with many struggling to cope with long work shifts and a stressful working environment. To guard against these pressures, Francis emphasized the importance of prayer and prioritizing one's own spiritual life, commenting that this is what sustained the many dedicated saints who served the sick with love.

"To keep your spirit alive, I urge you to be faithful to prayer and to nourish yourselves with the Word of God: always with the Gospel in your pocket," the pope advised. "Healing, among other things, passes not only from the body, but also from the spirit."
